

Festival presentation

The third edition of “Sguardi sui territori” Festival, scheduled for 2021, will take place online. The review, promoted by Ecomuseo delle Acque every two years, will be structured in five afternoons, Saturdays November 6, 13, 20, 27 and December 4. The first four appointments will be dedicated to film screenings and discussions, while the last day will host a round table attended by all the speakers of the previous meetings, as well as other guests.

The focus will be on the territory of the Alps. Four ecomuseum / museum structures have been identified among those that in various ways have contemplated, in their activities, the audiovisual documentation of the human contexts of reference: they are Ecomuseo della Pastorizia (Pietraporzio, Cuneo), Museo Maison Gargantua (Gressan, Aosta), Museo Etnografico Canal di Brenta (Valstagna, Vicenza) and Museo Ladino di Fassa (San Giovanni di Fassa, Trento). Each reality will be the referent for one of the four days of screenings and will be responsible, together with the scientific committee, for the film selection and for the identification of speakers for the discussion.

Some corpora of “historical” documentary productions, dating back to the 1960s-1990s, by Albino Impérial, Renato Morelli and Giuseppe Taffarel have been chosen. They are part of the history of the Italian ethnographic documentary. The festival will be broadcasted in streaming mode.
